Ideal Financial Conditions Confront the Business World.

IMPORTANT DEALS IN REALTY.

Sale of a Business Stand on Wood Street and of Three Residences.

The only striking business features last week were greater ease in the money market and a marked increase in the volume of speculative trading. The abundance of busy times a little later on when January dividend disbursements shall have been completed. There was a decided improvement in the realty market, both in inquiry and sales. Four or five good-sized deals in downtown property were concluded. The week closed upon an almost ideal financial situation, and with full assurance that large amounts of money will in a few weeks be seeking investment.

Wood Street Property Picked Up.

It was reported yesterday that the Childs property on Wood street, just above Fifth avenue, consisting of a lot 20x80 and a fivestory brick building, had been sold to Wolf Bros., the brush men, for $62,500. Black & Baird were mentioned in connection with the deal, but, when asked for information, said that, while the report was substantially correct, they were not in a position to talk. It is likely this transaction will be followed another on the same street in the next few days.

Another Keeley Institute. The homestead of Mrs. John A. Warden, whose husband was prominent a few ago in the oil trade, located on Beaver street, Sewickley, consisting of something over an acre of ground and a house of 12 or 14 rooms, has been rold to a medical syndi-cate identified with the Keeley movement at a price approximation 12,000. The building will be remodeled and adapted to the purposes of an institute similar to that in the East End.

Engineering a Corner in Lots. Information comes from City Hall, and is reinforced by J. H. Coleman & Co., that a syndicate has been formed to buy up as much ground as possible on Frankstown avenue, between Station street and the Nineteenth ward patrol station. One deal has been consummated, and several others are said to be in a promising condition. Business is pushing out that way, and it is surmised that the object of the syndicate is to get control of all the best sites, so as to be in a position to turn a handsome penny from enhanced values sure to follow this movement. Values, in fact, are already looking up, some owners asking as much as $200 a foot.

Agein in the Market. When the Duquesne Traction people decided to extend their line along Highland and Larimer avenues, they bought a lot to facilitate the crossing of Penn avenue at Liberty Hall, for which they paid $30,000. Since the combine with the Pittsburg Com-pany the place for crossing Penn has been changed to Highland and Penn, and there being no further use for the lot for the purposes of the road, it has been put on the market. This is one of the best business locations in East Liberty, being in the heart of the hub, and it is safe to say it will during the present year to be advanced in during the present year be handsomely im-proved. A project for this purpose is in-

Three East End Deals. During the week James W. Breen, the well-known journalist, purchased through the agency of A. W. E. Bauck from A. L. Watkins two residence properties on Craig street and Collins avenue, Fourteenth and Nineteenth wards, for $15,000. Another deal was consummated near Mr. Breen's purchase on Craig street at a price close to $18,060. These transactions disclose a ready demand for East Fnd residence properties. Earnings of the Pittsburg and Western Railroad for December show an increase of 29 per cent over the same month last year. There is a dicker in progress for property on Water street, not far from the Monongahela House, but it is kept very quiet.

Movements in Realty. Baxter, Thompson & Co. sold for $1,000 a new two-story mansard, pressed brick dwelling, on Cliff street, Eleventh ward, with lot 20x65 feet; also lot No. 20, Ruch place plan, Thirteenth ward, fronting 22 feet on Kirkpatrick street, and extending back 110 feet to a 20-foot alley, for $250. HOME SECURITIES.

A GOOD WEEK FOR MOST OF THE LOCAL STOCK SHARPS.

Trading of Good Proportions and Values on a Higher Level—Boston Hungry for Philadelphia Gas-Luster Again on Its Mettle-Tractions Stronger.

It was a good, strong week in the local stock market. Total sales on call aggre-gated 3.007 shares and $2,000 bonds. Duquesno Traction led with 1,136 shares, closely fol-lowed by Philadelphia Gas with 1,007. The pext highest was Luster, with 290. Office transactions were comparatively large. Features and influences were all good. The strong financial situation was the main factor in the upward movement. Boston was the source of inspiration for Philadelphia Gas. Investors there seemed to think it a good purchase for a quick turn and Pittaburg pumped it into them quite liberalle.

Other strong interests were Luster, which was bid up to 9% on call yesterday and to 10 afterward, without bringing any of it out. Insiders have this stock so well in hand that they are able to control it to suit circumstances. The Tractions, as compared with the close of the previous Saturday, were higher, with the exception of Pleasant Valley. Duquesne was distinctly stronger in tone as well as figures. Electric improved a point, with little in sight. New York, Jan. 9 .- The stock market was still very active to-day, but the feverishness and irregularity which marked yesterday's dealings were also present, and undoubtedly heavy realizations contributed to make a general heavy temper. The liquidation was specially prominent in Louisville and Nashville, Atchison and Ne" England, while the strong spots in the list were confined to the Conl shares, the Industrials and a few of the low priced specialties. The market, as a whole, was much narrower than usual of late, and a few of the more prominent shares received the greater portion of the atten-

Louisville and Nashville took the lead in this movement, but New England soon joined and the whole list followed with the exception of Richmond and West Point, the Coalers and a few of the low-priced shares.

A suspicion that New York and Northern will not come in for any benefit from the New England deal caused a material reaction in it, and it settled away from 20% at its best yesterday to 22. Manhattan also showed the same influence at the close, its final bid being 2 per cent below its last sale. The jump in the Coalers developed great activity in Reading, but the improvement in price was of no importance. Exciting Week in Stocks.

John M. Oakley & Co.'s Wall street corres pondents wired: "This has been an exciting week. The sensational rise in Chicago Gas and New England and the sudden drop in the former alone sufficed to lend interest to proceedings in the Exchange, Louisville and Nashville is bearing out all that we have said about it, and unless the manage and Nashville is bearing out all that we have said about it, and unless the management rescind the 2½ per cent semi-annual dividend that they have just declared the property will be deprived of cash that ought to be kept against ramy days.

"It looks rather rash to sell short a 5 per cent stock at 81, with 2½ per cent dividend on it, and perhaps it would be best to defer short sales, but the stock must go down. The course of speculation this week has left traders in a little more doubt than a week ago as to the continued march of prices upward, but there is no confidence in the general result. People generally have faith in the outcome and shrewd observers still believe that speculation will go beyond the safe bounds of intrinsic values.

"The bank statement wes late in coming out. It showed up well. There was an increase of $1,750,000 in reserves and an actual gain in cash of $1,000,000, the deposits having increased over $11,000,000.

"The market closed on a free selling movement on orders camanating from professional sources. This will dislodge a lot of lightly held stocks, create a fresh short interest, and probably lead to a renewed bull turn by this time next week.

Active Campaign Predicted. Henry Clews & Co. say: "The first week of the new year exhibits the general activity in the stock market that our recent weekly advices have foreshadowed. The disburs ment of over $100,000,000 of January interest and dividends is attended with an active demand for bonds and for dividend-paying stocks; and those purchases have given a stimulus to the latent feeling in favor of higher prices and developed an active speculative movement, under which prices have advanced throughout the list. The transac-tions on the Exchange have doubled the volume prevailing during the quiet of several preceding weeks, and symptoms seem to favor the preponderant opinion that a campaign of unusual activity has set in which is likely to be continued throughout which is likely to be continued throughout the year.

"Thus far the buying has come mainly from investors and the class of large operators who are immediately interested in railroad and other corporate properties, desirous of creating a market for disposing of a portion of their large heldings. The situation includes elements calculated to stimulate a future advance in stocks beyond what has been so far realized; but, as the present tone of the market is conservatively bullish rather than hinlily sanguine, prudent operators are likely to realize upon the profits of the late advance in the hope of buying back upon reactions; and we comonying back upon reactions; and we com-need that policy for the moment to our

There were no big wells completed yesterday, but several which were expected in were shut down on top of the sand either on account of a lack of water or gas. The Penetration of a Fure Tone the Basis of a Signaling System.

Youth's Companion.] It is a theory which seems to have been confirmed by practical experiment that a pure tone of voice, such as that used in singing, penetrates to a much greater dissinging, penetrates to a much greater distance than mere noise. This idea has given rise to a new system of marine signaling, to be used either at night or in foggy weather, and based entirely upon the action of suc cessive musical tones.

A limited number of combinations of notes can be made to carry on all the conversation necessary between approaching vessels to avoid collision, or between light houses and dangerous points of the coast, in order to prevent wreeks.

Four notes, for example, serve to ask,

"Which way are you heading?" and two others mean, "I am steering southeast." The system can be employed on a large scale by means of machinery consisting of a keyboard, on which the operator would play, and "speaking apparatus." It is ex-pected that by such apparatus communica-tion may be established at a distance of two miles. The invention can be adapted to the Morse code of signals when it becomes necessary to spell out names or words.
